eComment: I agree with all of David Grethen's comments on his letter (4/29/19) Some additional comments: In order to improve communication with the community, please post more projects on the city's website. It would be great if every project over 100K had a "page" or "section" within a page with the project description detail, rather than having to go to the "Project Description Sheets" in a file. For large projects over $1M, like Sewers, 8th street, they should always have their own page with a quarterly status update on the page itself, since these projects tend to span years. When a project has "various locations" in the description, there needs to be supporting detail specifying those locations. For example, the "Sewer Improvements" page should have a list of the targeted locations and mark those locations as complete as the project is being worked.
